OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER
SALINA, KANSAS.

THURSDAY, December 1, 1922

CITY AND COUNTY.

To-day is Mystic Shrine day.

What beautiful fall weather.

Wheat does not advance much.

Frank Culp is home from Chicago.

District court will convene next Tuesday.

Watch the JOURNAL columns for holiday bargains.

Mr. Baum was in Kansas City the first of the week on business.

Many farmers called on the county Treasurer last Saturday.

A new time card went into effect on the Santa Fe last Sunday.

Remember the opera "Neta" Saturday and Monday evenings.

The Santa Fe now leaves here in the evening at 8:20 instead of 9:05 as heretofore.

Dr. Wm. Bishop and Dr. J. M. Lockwood are in Topeka attending the State Temperance Union.

District court convenes next Tuesday with 125 cases on the docket, only 5 of which are criminal cases.

The game of football between Abilene and Salina on Thanksgiving day resulted in a stand off. Score 4 to 4.

The Christian church congregation tendered a reception to their new pastor, Rev. H. Miller Black, last week.

J. E. Woodward, jr. is at Kingfisher Oklahoma, where he is attending an indefinite period of time on business.

New tracks are being laid in the Y of the Lincoln branch that runs parallel with the main line of the U. P.

Mr. G. D. Strentz and Miss Millie Truman of Solomon City were married at the M. E. parsonage last Monday.

Thirteen relatives partook of a Thanksgiving dinner at J. B. Hamilton's home on South Santa Fe last Thursday.

The family of Mr. D. E. Dever, the jeweler at Mr. Whitehead's, have arrived, and are at home at 424 South 10th street.

Red-headed men very seldom fail in a project they are in earnest about, as has been demonstrated right here at home recently.

Quite a delegation of the Salina Rebekahs visited Brookville Monday evening, and gave an exhibition of their lodge work.

Mrs. T. L. Bond has been appointed a member of the World's Fair religious advisory board for the Lutheran church.

Millard Scott's home, corner of Elm and Fifth street caught fire early last Saturday morning, and burned to the ground.

"That Spaniard" company at the opera house Monday evening was very tiresome. But not many were there fortunately.

A telegram from Pennsylvania announcing the serious illness of Mrs. F. R. Spier's father, caused her to leave Tuesday for her old home.

The Colby Tribune claims to have received positive assurances that the Rock Island will assume charge of the Lincoln branch on January 1, 1923.

An evening passenger train now goes to McPherson from Salina, at 10:15 p. m., returning the next morning at 10:40. The freight runs as usual.

The May Stewart company did not appear as advertised Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. They were detained at McPherson for financial reasons only.

Mr. A. P. Anderson, of Fair, and Mrs. Christine Gustafson, of Stamford, Conn., were married at the Swedish Lutheran church in Salina, Nov. 29, by Rev. Floren.

The African M. E. church society gave an entertainment Thanksgiving night in the Wright hall which was fairly well attended, and a neat sum netted for the church.

Mr. A. V. Anderson, one of the substantial farmers near Salina, came in and took a receipt home with him Saturday for the Journal until January 1st, 1923.

W. I. Allen, the successful and gentlemanly manager of the Singer Sewing Machine company's business for this section of the State, was down from Salina—Abilene Reflection.

C. C. Culp has received a shipment of hats from M. L. Grimes, of Lyons, as a result of the election of Simpson and Jewelling. The box contained five varieties, one of a kind, and hereafter Charlie will wear only new hats.

The Missouri Valley Bridge people are here, and will build two new bridges in the county, one across the Mulberry near Mr. Gregg's farm, and one in Washington township across Spring Creek.

Rival factions in Salina are already reading their garments over the post-office at that point. Fictitious sixteen feet long, already signed up endorsing a straightout Democrat and a fusion Democrat for the place—Lincoln Republican.

The Odd Fellows at their last meeting elected the following officers: N. G. A. M. Farley; V. G. T. P. Anderson; recording secretary, L. M. Tuttle; financial secretary, L. A. Davis; treasurer, I. S. Powers.

Mr. A. R. Raudenbush took pity on our recent defeat, and contributed two dollars for the JOURNAL last Saturday. Probably we have been defeated politically, but we are still on our feet for Salina and Saline County.

Fred Lotz, son of Edward Lotz, who left here to help rebuild Johnstown, Pa., is now located at Chicago, and has steady employment on the World's Fair buildings. He is doing well at his trade, and expects to visit Salina during the holidays.

A letter from Ed. L. Miller says his ship "Philadelphia" is in Navy Yard at New York for repairs, and that it will be ready for sea about January 1st. Ed is an enthusiastic republican, and thinks it will not be long until the old party again rules this country.

Mrs. Frank Hagenman and two children, her mother Mrs. Bean and sister Del, will leave to spend the winter. They will stop at Las Vegas, N. M., for a few weeks on the way out. The trip is taken in the hope of benefiting Mrs. Hagenman's health.

A sensation from Gypsum City was made known in the Salina courts this week, the defendant being bound over. The main facts in the case are first a prominent citizen, a divorce from his wife, then a marriage to the wife's sister, and now a bastardy case, wife No. 1 being the complaining witness.

Mr. S. Pearson is the east making his contracts for material for Spring delivery. He has been absent for some time, first making a business trip through the south, and then going east. As a result of his Southern trip several vehicles made in Salina will travel over Southern roads next summer.

The opera "Neta" will be given at the opera house this coming Saturday and Monday evenings under the direction of Prof. F. C. Cushman, for the benefit of the public schools of this city. Over 100 school children will be in the chorus, and some of the best musical talent of the city will participate.

George Conrad, who came in contact with an electric wire at the corner of South and Eleventh street last Thursday night, was not seriously injured, and was able to resume work Monday morning. The high wind of Thursday night blew the street lamp down, but no other damage was done.

Dr. DeWees says he will have Mr. David King in town within a week, if nothing unforeseen happens, all of which Mr. King's friends fully appreciate. When first started by a vicious cow he and his friends surely thought he must die, and Mr. Garver was summoned to draw up his will, but nature and medical skill have probably saved him for many years of usefulness yet.

John Davis and W. A. Harris have given a solemn promise that work shall begin on the Salina public building next Spring and be completed without delay. If they succeed in carrying out this promise, and we sincerely hope they will, Republicans will be sure to accord to them the full need of praise. It is certainly true Mr. Davis was doing something for his constituents in this neck of the woods.

Harvey Hagler was arrested last night on the complaint of Mr. Sam Tapp, charging him with being an accomplice in the theft committed by John Tapp at the H. D. Lee Mercantile company. It is charged that young Hagler received part of the money, knowing how it had been obtained. The case is continued until December 1st in Judge Bishop's court, the defendant being released under $500 bond.—Tuesday's Republican.

Dr. G. E. Harvey was called to Salina Monday to assist in two very important surgical operations. One was a case of tracheotomy and the other a laparotomy. Both cases were performed successfully. He is generally known that there is an institute of that kind in Salina yet there has been for about a year; also a medical sanitarium has been established, with both have been operated with great benefit to patients at home, and from abroad.—Junction City Journal.

E. J. Kaffer, accompanied by his cousin, Miss Lucy Becker, came down from Kanopolis Sunday for a short visit. Both Becker remained until Tuesday evening as a guest in the family of W. R. Gels. A JOURNAL missionary invaded the Kaffer store at Kanopolis last Friday and found all hands busy. Ed is a candidate for postmaster of "the future great," and the Democratic boss of Ellsworth county informed us in confidence last Saturday that he had the inside track. So note it be.

Mr. Hughes, of the H. D. Lee Mercantile company, who, with his wife and a few weeks ago, together with a party of friends enjoyed a hunt in the Indian Territory, has returned, and is again at work. As a result of their trip several deer are no more, and a lot of smaller game perished at their hands. The warm weather interfered with their shipment of the game home, although there is no reasonable doubt in the minds of Mr. Hughes' friends that they really did kill plenty of game.

Turkeys were strutting around in great numbers the first of the week, but on Wednesday evening, when the editor hunted for one in order to celebrate Thanksgiving in due style, all the coops were empty and there was not a single solitary fowl left except a rooster of many springs which under the circumstances, was appropriated for the purpose. We'll never do it again, however, unless we have a particular spite against the cock and expect to take our dinner away from home.—Linda's News.

Please be a little more specific, George. Were the springs of the spiral or woven wire variety?

An Old Settler Goes.

Abraham H. White died at his residence just south of the city last Thursday, and was buried Friday afternoon, Rev. Baker officiating. A large number of neighbors and friends were present at the funeral. The deceased leaves a son eleven years of age, and two daughters aged 10 and 12 years respectively. To mourn the loss of a father, which leaves them nearly alone in this world as their mother died about four years ago. Mr. White came to this county over 20 years ago, and by an up-right honorable life is today mourned by a large circle of friends. He died from a complication of diseases which had their origin in an attack of grippe some time ago. He was aged 65 years.

A New State Bank.

Local stockholders of Marquette, and the Salina State Bank, have established a State bank at Marquette, with a capital of $10,000. They opened their doors for business on November 23rd, and will undoubtedly do a good business. P. F. Lindh, is president of the institution, W. H. Brooks vice-president, and Robt. Schiberg, recently of McPherson, is the cashier. Messrs. Pierce and Lock, of the Salina State Bank, are very energetic business men, and the manner in which they are reaching out for legitimate business, is commendable to say the least. As this is the only bank in Marquette, it is reasonable to suppose that their future will be bright and prosperous, as their city has quite a large number of well to do business men, and it is surrounded by a magnificent farming country, well peopled with prosperous farmers.

Broke His Arm Hooking Corn.

No one claims this as a corn year for Kansas. Oh, no. We have said something about the state producing 20 million bushels of wheat this year, and have in a peculiar way added the totals together of the various farm products for the year 1922, and the result has been a good lesson in arithmetic for even an alliance man who has figured on the late election, but when it comes to a man getting his arm broken trying to harvest an ear of corn, we feel almost like giving the corn statistics a pass, and claiming something like 1922 in this line. Mr. Sam. Martin, who lives near the Harmony school house met with just this kind of an accident recently. He attempted to break off an ear of corn while in the field husking, and in some unaccountable manner broke his left arm, between the wrist and elbow. While it was a very painful fracture, yet he is getting along nicely, and will soon be all right again.

Recovered.

The mother of Mrs. Fred G. Haas, Mrs. Sarah H. Perkins, died at the residence of her daughter on South 8th street, last Friday morning. Brief services were held at the residence at 7:30 Friday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Haas accompanied the remains to the old home in Galena, Ill., where the internment took place last Sunday.

Mrs. Perkins came to Salina about four weeks ago intending to spend the winter here with her daughter in the hopes of benefiting her health. Her sickness dated from a severe attack of a gripe last winter, and she rapidly grew worse after her arrival. The deceased was past sixty years of age, her maiden name being Sarah H. Holbrook, and she was born at Nordwog, Maine, on the Kennebec river. Mr. and Mrs. Haas have the sympathy of a large circle of warm personal friends in Salina, in this their sad bereavement.

Thanksgiving Services.

The union Thanksgiving services at the Lutheran church last Sunday, were well attended, every seat in the church being occupied, and the Sunday school room also well filled. Messrs. Bond, Sargent and Rutledge, and Miss Cotton assisted the choir with splendid effect. Rev. A. B. Kirtland presided, and the program as published in last week's paper carried out in full. The sermon by Rev. Stephenson was for Rev. 19, "Hallelujah" for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. It was a magnificent effort for an occasion of this character, and well received by the large audience who were privileged to hear it. At the close of the services, a collection of $15.00 was taken up, and turned over to the committee there appointed, to be used as they might deem proper in aiding the need.

The New Postmaster.

Even those who were opposed to Mr. Johnson's appointment as postmaster, and there were a few, as there would be no matter who the applicant might be, will have to admit that he is trying his best to please the public. Without any fuss, he is quietly going ahead with the business of the office, and making improvements wherever he sees they are needed. The change in the carrier's window was a good one, and those who went to the office thanking evening found the delivery window and boxes all moved several feet to the South, which gives the patrons of the office quite an additional amount of room in front, that was greatly needed. Many compliments have been passed on Mr. Johnson's administration thus far, as the great mass of people who have business with the office care but little who is postmaster, just so their wants are properly attended to. The most sensible thing Mr. Johnson has done was to retain Mr. Wellington as head clerk, as he is thoroughly acquainted with the business of the office, and is always at his post. As a postmaster, Mr. Johnson is a success, and we are glad of it.

OUR FRIEND IS RIGHT.

Leader Maps of Wonderly, Kansas, meets the Situation Up to Current.

In a letter to the JOURNAL from Wonderly, dated Nov. 23rd, Leader Maps sends us the following, which we gladly publish in full, as it expresses the feelings that exist in the minds of nearly all good republicans:

Editor JOURNAL:—Of course they are glad, it was a great Democratic victory and we don't wonder that they feel good. It is natural that they should. And nowhere else outside of Democratic breast, is there so much joy and exultation over a Cleveland election as there is in free trade England. England had great commercial interests at stake and her people have watched the election with breathless interest.

What Republicans want to see is that we are severely disappointed in the result of this election. But we are glad that there is no halfway work about it. Sometimes it is necessary to try a thing in order to know about it. That is the view that people have taken in regard to Democratic rules and we are glad that party is to have full say in every department of the government. The Democratic party has always been one of the opposition, of negotiation, of compromise, something they have not had before in a third of a century and they will have to do something more than pull back and resist.

We want to see them repeal the tax on state bank and put their free trade ideas and theories into practice. They say that protection is unconstitutional; that it builds up an avaricious and greedy class at the expense of the masses. We want to see them wipe out the McKinley tariff as they pledged themselves to do if successful and to substitute for it a tariff for revenue only, the only tariff they say that is constitutional. After that we suggest and which we trust will follow Democratic success and is its legitimate sequel, if the party is honest, we will all be wiser whatever the outcome may be.

John Kingman and family leave here this week for California. They will locate at Rialto in that state. Mr. Kingman is remembered as one of the early land marks of central Gypsum Valley, having lived here 25 years. He and his brother Freeman Kingman, Denis Harkins, Mrs. Hannah Weller, and the Peck brothers to the north of the city, and George Prescott, Otto Treslin and the late C. S. King, to the south, were the earliest pioneers in the central part of the valley or that portion near this city. Further south there was another distinct settlement that early day of which the Reverend Joseph Tolle's present home was the nucleus. But few of the number have passed away from earth. Mr. Weller, the elder Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Coulson, being all that remain. The most of them are in the enjoyment of good health and a reasonable share of the comforts and blessings of life, and are to be fairly good circumstances, that is of those who still reside here.—Gypsum Advocate.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual fair and festival in the south room of the Red Men's building on the 9th and 10th (Friday and Saturday) of Dec. The fair will be open to the public at 5 o'clock Friday evening, a first class supper will be served from 6 to 8, after which an excellent program will be given. The fair will be open all day on Saturday. A full course turkey dinner will be given, for the small sum of 35 cents.

Mrs. O. F. Flurer and children departed last Saturday morning for Jackson Tenn., where she expects to stay with her brother and other relatives. Mrs. Flurer has lived in this vicinity for a number of years and has seen the ups and downs of life, but thanks to Uncle Sam, who provides for the widows and orphans of the fallen brave, and gave her a pension rendering her able to make this extended trip. She has many friends who regret her departure. Marquette Tribune.

Thanksgiving day a happy event occurred at the residence of Policeman Myers, the occasion being the christening of his little four months' old son. The boy was christened George Henry Myers, Rev. A. B. Kirtland performing the ceremony, and a number of relatives being witnesses of the enjoyable event.—Republican.

Next Tuesday the 6th inst., Mr. Post will sell the Ritterbacher brothers, 2 miles south west of Salina, 13 head of horses, which include some splendid big fellows, and some well bred driving stock. 21 head of cattle, 15 head of hogs, 110 shoeks of corn and a lot of farming implements, on 10 months credit, with 5 per cent interest.

Mrs. Myra Pettis, of Salina, who with her husband the late Wm. Pettis was among the early settlers of this valley, and was one of the brightest and best contributors to the literary and social feature of the farmers clubs of those days was visiting last week with Mrs. B. F. Whitehead.—Gypsum Advocate.

No. 105, A. O. U. W. will have sort of an exemplification meeting tomorrow evening. The various lodges of the county will be here, and work of the several degrees will be done for the instruction of visitors and members.

Joe Pendleton is with the Beach and Bowers Ministrel Co., that will be here next Wednesday evening.

Cataract, Heart Failure, Paralysis of the Throat

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Every Health."

"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to state a few facts: For several years I have suffered from catarrh and heart failure, getting so bad I could not rest and work."

Could Scarcely Walk

I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat and could not speak. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave medicine, but I had no relief. I then tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, and in a few days I was able to speak and walk. I thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for every health."

At Death's Door

After failing with Dr. Smith, I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken a few bottles, I felt better, and my appetite returned. I then took a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and in a few days I was able to walk and work. I thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for every health."
